Live

Minneapolis, Minnesota's most populous city, is home to over 400,000 people and some of the country's most well-known businesses. Also known as the City of Lakes, Minneapolis provides a bevy of activities and locations for its residents to enjoy. Here, residents can explore the city's 22 beautiful lakes, catch a game at the stadium or visit one of 180 craft breweries located in the city. Both singer Prince and Charles M. Schulz, creator of the Peanuts comic strip, called Minneapolis home as do many Fortune 500 companies, as well as one of the KPMG U.S. offices. Its affordable cost of living combined with its big city feel (190+ skyscrapers!) makes Minneapolis a great place to live and raise a family. It also makes the city an exceptional place to work and grow your career.

Minneapolis-St. Paul ranks as the 7th most diverse economy among all 384 metropolitan areas in the U.S.

Work

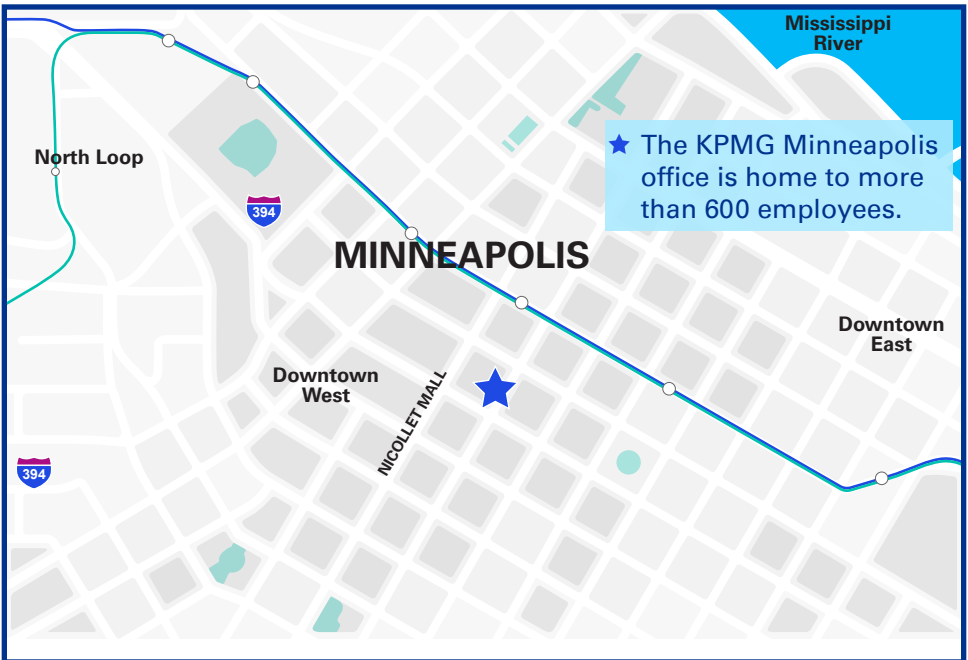

Minnesota is home to over 15 Fortune 500 companies, many of which are audit, tax, and/or advisory clients of the Minneapolis office. Working with these leading organizations provides our employees the chance to develop their technical skills and gain hands-on experience.

Want to form meaningful connections after hours? Join the rec basketball or kickball teams! The kickball team is exclusively for interns and gives them the opportunity to compete with other Big Four kickball teams.

I have been a member of a book club with current KPMGers and alumni who have become some of my closest friends. We have traveled together and even been part of each others' weddings! I also am in a bowling league and play pickleball with current KPMG employees and alumni, which is something I look forward to each week."

About KPMG

We promote work-life integration and flexibility by encouraging our employees to relax and recharge throughout the year.

Our people enjoy two firmwide shutdowns each year, one at year-end and the other around the Fourth of July holiday.

With our Jumpstart Friday program, employees can log off early on Fridays during the summer to take full advantage of their weekends.

We have a passion for diversity, equity, and inclusion and offer Business Resource Groups (BRG) to join as a member or an ally:
